Project Scope

Cardno Grogan Richards has a long standing relationship with Bunnings, being the preferred consultant for civil and structural services Australia wide.

As part of the ongoing connection CGR provides feasibility information on prospective sites, giving direction independent of developers engaged to design and construct stores.

CGR is also reviewing designs completed as part of the rollout of new Bunnings warehouses, while ensuring existing stores have been constructed to the same standards. CGR is also employed to provide engineering expertise on ways of improving the design standards of future projects.

The ongoing relationship with Bunnings has recently been strengthened, with CGR engaged to review maintenance requirements for all store across Australia. This role will extend to tendering any rectification works required prior to handover to the property trust.
